How a writer did it

This is from your reading pack. You have already answered questions on it. Look at it now for how it is built.

It rained all night. In the morning the garden was wet. Amina put on her boots. She went out to look. A snail sat on the gate. Its shell was brown. Amina counted six puddles. The biggest one was by the wall. She did not jump in it. Her mother was watching.

What it does

1. It starts with the weather, which is one short sentence.
2. Every sentence is about one thing.
3. Nothing is explained. The reader works it out.

Task 1: A wet morning

A wet morning

Write three sentences about going outside after rain. Say each one out loud before you write it.

Task 3: Put them in order

Put them in order

Here are three sentences in the wrong order. Write them out so they make sense:
She put on her boots. Amina looked out of the window. It had rained all night.

SAMPLE PAGES

You have read a few pages. The pack is longer.

What you are holding is a short sample, taken from different parts of the pack so that you can see how a week is planned and what a child is actually asked to do, before you decide.

The complete pack, and the rest of the academic materials, are on our website: schemes of work for a parent teaching at home, and practice packs for the skills children get stuck on.
